Wheat, Old Corn, and Maryland Tobacco,

PURCHASED BY
Oct 24 LAWRASON & FOWLE.

Mr. Editor,

KNOWING that there is a number of the most worthless of society, who make it a business to spread evil reports respecting the solvency of banks in the different parts of the United States, for the purpose of depreciating and purchasing their paper. I feel it is my duty to give a list of the Banks of the District of Columbia, that it may be made known to all persons in every part of the Union, that the said Banks do pay specie for their notes, on demand, and that they are justly entitled to the highest credit and standing, and that they are opposed to a suspension of specie payments, and will be the last in the country that will agree to such a measure. This communication is made to prevent imposition, and to inform all persons who may have the paper of those banks, in any part of the Union, that they may hold it as so much specie. Persons emigrating and travelling north, south or west, would do well by taking the notes of those banks, as they will always find them equal to specie, and often to command a premium of 5 to 10 per cent, for remittances to Baltimore, Philadelphia & New-York. To my numerous acquaintances (trading men,) and the community, I pledge myself for the foregoing.

The following are the banks of this district that pay specie for their notes on demand, viz:
The Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of Georgetown,
Central Bank of Georgetown & Washington,
Union Bank of Georgetown.
Bank of Columbia,
Bank of the Metropolis,
Patriotic Bank of Washington,
Bank of Washington,
Bank of Alexandria,
Union Bank of Alexandria,
Farmers' Bank of Alexandria,
Bank of Potomac,
Branch Bank of the United States at Washington.

I hold myself responsible for the foregoing declaration to the public. Done at my Exchange Banking House, Bridge-street, Georgetown, this 26th day of May, 1819.
ROMULUS RIGGS.

Editors of newspapers throughout the United States, by giving the above a few insertions, will greatly benefit the community. R. R.

MONDAY, MAY 31, 1819.

MARRIED, at Farly, in Culpepper, on Thursday evening last, by the Rev. Mr. Woodville, SAMUEL APPLETON STORROW, Esq. an officer of the army of the United States, to the much admired Miss ELIZA HILL CARTER, only daughter of William Champe Carter, Esq.—a young lady eminently amiable and accomplished; endowed and adorned by every requisite calculated to render the marriage state happy.

COUPLETS

To a young lady on the moaning of her nuptials. (Original.)

'Wake lovely Bride! young, gentle, gay—
Awake like vernal morn!
Smile like the bud that banquets May—
Thou Rose, without a Thorn!

Eliza, wake! he chides the hour
For whom thy sweets exhale—
O pure as that delicious flower,
The lilly of the vale!

The rose and lilly shed perfume—
The strawberry blushes sweet;
But in thy lovelier breath and bloom,
Their hues and fragrance meet!

Warm,d by the sun, can Heaven's blue face
Seen through the chrystal brook
Serene, exhibit brighter grace
Than warms thy modest look?

But lilies white, nor roses red;
Nor heaven's blue face refin'd—
Can such enchanting graces shed,
As deck thy beauteous mind.

Mind is the spring of passion pure—
The charm that ne'er can cloy;
Rare mind can bid delight endure,
And fix commutual joy.

Ye happy Pair! that love obey—
Come pledge your vows of truth!
Haste, lovely Bride! O come away,
And bless th' accomplish'd youth!

TOPOGRAPHY—LOUISIANA.

The following is an extract of a letter, from the honorable Francis X. Martin, of New-Orleans, bearing the date of the 22d July last, addressed to a gentleman in Georgia. It will be found to contain a most concise and minute topography of the state of Louisiana, and must be highly interesting to the enterprising of all descriptions.

Sir—You are not deceived in the idea you have formed of the prosperity of this state. I believe in no part of the United States is agriculture more profitable

Some of our sugar planters derive a revenue of 1,000 dolls. in some years, from the anuual labor of each of their working hands—from 500 to 750 is the ordinary calculation; and, at the present price of cotton, (33 dolls.) it is imagined that if the disease which injures the plant at present subsides, the culture of that article is equally profitable.

There is no difficulty in obtaining land in this state, but slaves are extremely scarce and dear in the market. An ordinary field hand, born in the country, or seasoned thereto, is worth from 500 to 2,000 dolls. in cash; genteel house servants command 3,000.

From the Balize to Baton Rouge, on one side of the Mississippi and the Red River on the other, land sells by the front acre? the usual depth of each tract is 40, and sometimes 80 acres—but the first 20 acres immediately on the river are alone cultivatable, upon an average; beyond this is an impenetrable cypress swamp, constantly under water—the cultivatable land being a narrow ribband on eace side of the river, and the sand gradually sloping from the river. Within the first ten miles above and below the city of New-Orleans, on either shore, the front acre sells from 2,000 to 4,000 dollars; and as you recede from the city, the land becomes proportionably cheaper.

The plantations there are burthened with the keeping of the lever or dyke that secures them from inundation; and the road with its ditches and bridges—a labor which, some planters say, employs the sixth part of the labor of their hands.

On the shores of the Mississippi, within the limits I speak of, sugar is the principal staple commodity; there are, however, in the upper part of it, several cotton farms. Beyond the narrow strip of cultivatable land which extends along the western shore of the Mississippi, is a dismal swamp, bounded by lakes and morasses, which extend to the distance of about 40 miles, when another cypress swamp bounds the eastern side of the lands in the next county, Attakapas. Here, on the sea shore, and along the banks of the Teche, the main river are some sugar plantations lately established by Americans, which thrive very much. Cotton is also made here: but at a small distance from the sea begins what is called the prairie land—vast natural meadows, destitute of trees, except along the water courses. The plantations here are few, on account of the scarcity of timber, and the people employ themselves in raising cattle. A number of farmers count their cattle by the thousand. The cattle are left to shift for themselves during the whole year; marking the calves and counting the animals which are intended for immediate sale, being all the trouble the farmer takes. Land sells here from 20 to 25 dollars the Apen—very little less than the acre. Upon the water courses, where the land is fit for sugar, the land sells at times for double that price.

Above the Attakapas, is the county of Opelousas, the lands of which are much the same, except that the quantity fit for sugar is extremely inconsiderable. Still higher up is the county of Rapids, chiefly inhabited by Americans. There are here some extremely rich tracts of land—cotton only is planted. Good land sells from 15 to 20 dollars the acre. To the north are the counties of Washeta ——* and Concordia. The population of these is chiefly American.—These counties, before the cession, were inhabited by hunters. In these, as in the county of Rapids, there is a quantity of piney, sandy land, which the neighborhood of richer land prevents from being cultivated. The cotton lands of Red River are supposed to be the best cotton land in the United States. In Wesheta ——* and Concordia, large tracts are fit for the cultivation of wheat, tobacco, and Indian corn. The United States have a great deal of land to sell here, and there are individuals who own immense tracts. This is the part of the state in which the cheapest lands are. To the west is the county of Natchitoches, bordering on the Spanish province of Texas. In it cotton and tobacco are cultivated to great advantage. It is intersected by numerous water courses, along which are very rich tracts of land. Cattle are also raised here in abundance Point Coupie and Aveyille, two counties on each side of Red River, are entirely occupied by French families, who raise cotton. Of late a sugar plantation has been set up at Point Coupie; it is the most northernwest in the state, and thrives well. Land sells at Point Coupie at 1,000 to 2,000 dollars the front arpent or acre, with the usual depth of forty; but the cultivatable land is here also a very narrow strip.

On the eastern bank of the Mississippi, immediately below the boundary of the new state of Mississippi is the county of Felicinia, taken from the Spaniards in the year 1810. The upper part, extending as far as the bayou Manchac or Iberville, is what is called rolling land, very fit for the cultivation of cotton, but the soil is not deep, and washes, or wears away in a few years. The population is almost exclusively American. Land sells from ten to twenty dollars. At a distance from the Mississippi, begins a body of piny land which is not at all sought after. The country around the lakes Maurepas and Ponchartrain before the Americans took possession of it, was thinly inhabited. The people on the sea shore drew from it large quantities of shells, which they burnt into lime—having but few slaves they did little else, except raising cotton and burning tar. The land is sandy, piney, except along the water courses. Here the Americans have established cotton and grazing farms. The land (a great proportion of which is public land) is obtained on easy terms, and at various prices, from two to twenty dollars per acre. There are immense tracts of it in the possession of individuals who obtained them from the Spanish government when it was about expiring; they would gladly sell at twenty five cents per acre, but their title is a doubtful one. Throughout the whole state, land is obtained with great facility. As to the mode of payment, long credit is given. This is owing in part to the productiveness, and the certainty there is that a man who has a force to cultivate will pay out of the crops—but chiefly to the facility with which payment is enforced by law. The premises are necessarily mortgaged for the payment of the price, and the production of the contract of sale, and an affidavit that the payment is due, entitles the vender to instant execution.

The government is as yet in equilibrio between the French and American party. In the Legislature, the first has a small majority in the lower, and they are equal in the upper house.

The Governor, Treasuser and Secretary of State are French. In the superior court two Judges are French, one American by birth. Of the district Judges, six are Americans and one only French

In general, the Americans are in majority in the other offices. Our public institutions are few. We have a college pretty well endowed—Five banks. The Nuns have a very large boarding house, and are very rich—The Catholic clergy are few in numbers, well provided for—the curate of New-Orleans being the only member of it who may be said to be rich. We have a Bishop, but he resides at St. Louis, in the Missouri Territory.

The Americans have an elegant church of Episcopals, and are building a Presbyterian meeting house. The Catholics have two churches only in the city. We have two theatres—one of which was lately built, the other is rebuilding. The Creole ladies are fond of dancing. There is but little society here, however it is so in every country in which money is made with facility—the passion for acquiring it engrosses all others—Living in the city is as expensive as in New-York or Charleston—House rent is high. Professional men are making money very fast. Here beginnings are, like every where else, attended with some difficulty; out, when once a name is established, strides towards fortune are rapid."

* The name of this county is is not legible in the original, and is not recollected.

THE FRUITS OF CLEMENCY.

Every man loves to possess power—and the same man who would hazard his life to preserve that of a fellow creature, and would as soon die himself as commit an act of homicide, would have no objection to have the lives of nations at his disposal. A lust for power is in fact one of the conditions of our nature, from which few men will find themselves, on a candid examination of their hearts, to be entirely exempted. It is the manner in which they are disposed to use power, when they possess it, which marks the difference between men—between the low man and the gentleman, the man of honor and the scoundrel, the barbarian and the gentleman—the man of good sense and brilliant mind, and the brain-clouded Bœotian: I might add too, between the prudent politician and the impassioned madman. Indeed this last point is so clear, that a man who knows the world cannot help being surprised that malevolence should ever so far predominate over discretion, as to urge man into the cruel misuse of power which may be found in almost every department of life, particularly those to which men destitute of the early advantages of good breeding and education are capable of successfully aspiring. Our poor sable brethren of Africa will tell you that servitude to a white, is comfort compared to the service of one of their own hue—and every close observer of mankind has traced the same principle, operating in an increased or diminished ratio in the whole scale of human affairs, from the master chimney-sweeper up to the tip of society. With few exceptions, upstarts are misusers of power, and if any man doubts it, let him look about him, and let him hear who and what they are of whom the subjected complain.

And yet it is wonderful that they never submit their conduct to the test of their own recollections, feelings and experience—that they so seldom infer from the contempt and execration in which the severe exercise of power is held by the world, and the respect and affection which clemency, and the lenient exercise of power never fails to be regarded by even the worst men. In ancient history, who are the persons upon whom successive ages have continued to bestow the most unqualified applause? Those who have most distinguished themselves by clemency, and particularly by forbearance from the gratification of their rancorous passions and revenge. The most unfading tint in Julius Cæsar's fame to this day, is his clemency. When a noble young Roman opposed his breaking into the treasury, after he had passed the Rubicon—"retire, young man," said Cæsar, "or I will strike you instantly dead—and know that it would be easier for me to do this than to say it." Can a finer example be imagined, or one more worthy of admiration, than the pardon which Augustus granted to the seditious Cinna, the grandson of Pompey, who was found to be the ringleader of a conspiracy formed against that prince's life. The time, the place, and all the measures for assassinating him while employed in offering a sacrifice, were all disclosed, and the crime was so manifest as not to admit of a doubt. Augustus, on first receiving the alarming information, resolved to make a signal example of the traitor; and for that purpose, against the next day, summoned a council of his friends who were best affected to him. The intervening night gave rise to many distracting thoughts, which tortured his soul. He could not view but with horror, the hard necessity of condemning to death a man whom he had so entirely in his power—and though he had himself before, when at supper with Anthony, dictated the infernal edict for proscription, so well known, he could not now so far subdue his clemency as to order the death of a man who really deserved it. Fetching at every moment deep sighs, he reasoned with himself, and in a manner expressed the different thoughts that rushed upon his agitated mind, and combated each other. "What then," said he, "shall I leave my assassin at liberty and ease, and shall the solicitude be mine? After so many civil wars, after having escaped the dangers of many battles, by land and sea, a traitor wants to sacrifice me at the foot of the altar; and shall I not make him undergo the punishment he deserves? But what will the world say of my reign?—Wretch that I am! if my death be the object of so many citizens, am I worthy to live? When shall there be an end of these punishments? When shall I cease to shed blood? My head is exposed to the strokes of the young nobility, who expect to immortalize themselves by murdering me: but is life of so much estimation that in order to preserve it, I must sacrifice so many victims?" Livia, wife of Augustus, hearing all those reflections, interrupted him—"Will you," said she, "follow the councils of your wife? Imitate the physicians, said she, who, when ordinary remedies fail, make use of the opposite means. Hitherto your severity has not been happy; now make trial of clemency. Pardon Cinna; he is discovered; he can no more hurt you; and the pardon which you grant him, may become very beneficial to your reputation."

Augustus was overjoyed in having found encouragement towards the course to which he was already inclined.—He thanked Livia, countermanded his council, and having called Cinna alone, ordered every body to leave his chamber, bid him be seated, and spoke to him in these words—"I require, above all, that you hear me without interrupting me, and that you let me finish all I have to say to you, without replying—when I shall have done, you shall have full liberty to answer me:—I have found you, Cinna, in the camp of mine enemies; your engagements against me were not the effect of immutable choice, but the consequence of your birth. In such circumstances I granted you your life. I have restored your patrimony: you are this day so rich that several conquerors envy the condition of the conquered; and yet, after I have loaded you with so many kindnesses, you want to assassinate me." This was a thunderbolt to Cinna; distracted beyond measure, he exclaimed, that so black a crime was far from his thoughts.—"You do not keep your word, cried Augustus, coolly; we had agreed that you should not interrupt me:—yes, I repeat it, you want to assassinate me." He then repeated to him all the preparations of his conspiracy—he named to him his accomplices, and particularly him who was to give the first blow; and perceiving Cinna kept silence through surprise and terror, he added, "by what motive have you been induced to such a design?—Is it to occupy my place? Surely the Roman people are much to be pitied, if I am the only obstacle that prevents you from becoming emperor. You cannot govern your own house. It is not long since a freed-man foiled you, by his influence, in an affair which very nearly interested you: every thing is difficult to you except to form a conspiracy against your prince and benefactor.—Let us see: am I the only one who stops your ambitious projects?—Do you think to reduce a Paulus to your authority, or a Fabius Maximus, and many other nobles, who do not glory in vain titles." Augustus continued to speak in this strain for more than two hours, and concluded with saying, "Cinna, I formerly gave you your life as my enemy, I give it to you to-day as my assassin: let us begin from this moment to be sincere friends; let us emulously endeavour, I to support my kindness, and you to answer it. Let us strive to render it doubtful, whether there shall be on my side more generosity, or on yours more gratitude. He then vested Cinna with the consulate for the following year.

The ship Philip, captain Leslie, has arrived at Baltimore from Liverpool—sailed the 15th of April.—Markets in the same depressed situation—Flour 36 to 38 shillings per bbl; cotton 1s to 1s 3½d.—Sailed in company with the ship General-Lingan, captain Weston, for this port.

Solomon Etting, esq. has been temporarily appointed Cashier of the Union Bank of Maryland, vice Ralph Higinbothom, esq. resigned.

The following notice appears in the Baltimore papers:

CITY BANK OF BALTIMORE.

Notice is hereby given, that all notes of this institution under five dollars will be paid on presentation, and the bank will continue open for the collection of notes becoming due. The public are also informed that the notes of this bank will be received in payment of all debts due to it, on application to the acting cashier.

The board of directors assure the creditors of the City Bank that they entertain no doubt whatever of the ability of the bank to meet all its engagements in a short time.

ROBERT BARRY,
Cashier, pro tem.

Baltimore, May 20.

The circuit court of the United States adjourned yesterday. The grand Jury during their cession found bills of indictment against 62 men for piracy, supposed to have been committed on board the brig La Irresistable; these persons composed the majority of the crew of that vessel.—The commander John F. Furgerson and twelve of the crew have been arrested and are now imprisoned in the goal of Baltimore county; their causes having been continued by themselves upon affidavits, stating that there was material testimony absent, without the benefit of which they could not proceed to trial. It is not proper to say any thing about the merits of these cases until they have terminated.

The same grand jury have also found bills of indictment against ten or twelve persons for misdemeanors, supposed to have been committed by them in fitting out three different vessels in Chesapeake Bay since the 3d March, 1817. The trial of John H. Daniels, one of the persons charged with a misdemeanor for fitting out the brig La Irresistable, called at the time of her leaving Baltimore, the Vacunia, came on for hearing at this term, and after a laborious investigation of four days, he was acquitted under the direction of the court, upon the ground that the law of the 3d March, 1817, under which he was indicted, had finally expired on the 3d March, 1819, and that the act of the 20th April, 1818, which repealed the former act, did not reserve the right of prosecuting offenders under the former act, after the 3d March, 1819. This opinion concluded, of course, all the indictments which depended on the same law. There were however, several bills of indictment found under the law of 29th April, 1818, which were called up for trial, and in every case, Mr. Glenn, the District Attorney, offered himself ready for trial; but the parties charged came forward in each case with affidavits stating the absence of witnesses material for their defence, and praying a continuance of their cases; and as the affidavits were sufficiently broad to claim a continuance, the court of course granted it. INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT.

Jeffersonville and Ohio Canal.

Monday, the 3d of May, 1819, was a splendid day for the citizens inhabiting the banks of Ohio and its tributary streams above the Falls. On this day, the directors of the Jeffersonville Ohio Canal Company assembled pursuant to previous arrangements, in the town of Jeffersonville and commenced the great work which has so long been the subject of anxious expectation, and almost unanimously demanded from the patiotism no less than from the true interest of the Western Country. It is hardly necessary to say that the object of this undertaking is to procure a safe and convenient passage for boats, of every description, at all seasons of the year, around the falls of the Ohio.

At 12 o'clock the directors of the canal repaired to the spot, and each taking a spade commenced the excavation. The example of the directors was immediately followed with cheers and huzzas by a large number of witnesses assembled to witness the interesting spectacle. The regular laborers, to a large number, employed for the purpose, animated by the great glow of feeling and interest that pervaded the scene, then commenced their operations, and the work progressed with a spirit never surpassed. [Indiana paper.

Savannah, May 21.

FROM ST. MARY'S.

Captain Chevalier, from St. Mary's, who arrived at this port yesterday, states, that on Monday last a fire broke out in the woods near that place, which threatened destruction to the whole place; a strong westerly wind was blowing at the time, and it was with great difficulty the inhabitants saved the town. The Presbyterian church once caught, but the fire was extinguished before any essential damage was done.

The New-Orleans Gazette, of April 24th says, "an unfortunate occurrence took place yesterday morning in the Fauxbourg St. Marr. An officer of the United States army in the attempt to arrest a deserter from the service, fired upon and killed him. We are not in possession of the facts which occasioned this event, and even if we were, we are not the tribunal to judge of them, but we must say, that the conduct of a party of unthinking individuals were well nigh causing a serious tumult, which might have endangered the lives of many individuals."

A considerable sensation of late has been created by the conduct of the commanding officer at Pensacola, in ordering all deserters to be shot, without being brought to trial. We hope on an investigation this will not prove to be the case at New-Orleans. [Philadelphia Daily Adv.

FROM A YORK PAPER

Let praise be given unto whom praise is due.

Dr. Green of Reading, Pennsylvania, has discovered a cure for deafness. The remedy is not to be introduced into the ears—but is to be taken inwardly; and at the same time, persons are not prevented living as usual. This small tribute of thanks is offered by the subscriber and others of my neighborhood, who have been cured.

ML. RHOADS.

York co. Penn. 1*st mo* 11. 1819.

We did transmit from one to five dollars according to our circumstances—and the remedy was sent by mail, free of expense.

N. B. As this valuable medicine cures by strengthening the nerves, my neighbor Jones thought she would try it too, being a long time troubled with weak and sore eyes; so I gave her some of mine. which in little more than a week made them as strong and good as ever; doing needlework, now without spectacles.

Thus, friend Printer, as Scripture sayeth "Let praise be given unto whom it is due;" having faith in this saying, I am of a willing mind, that my name shall appear in thy paper, and through me, thee can make known what was found out.—namely, that this remedy will not only cure the weakness of the ears, but will cure the weakness of other parts also. This, by accident as it were, was found out.

ML. RHOADS.

York co. Pa. 11*th mo.* 1818.

I seem inclined to think that this valuable medicine will cure the weakness of the breast and lungs likewise.

Alex'a. Common Council.

MAY 27, 1819.

A petition from George Johnson and others was received and read, and ordered to lie on the table.

Ordered, That the mayor together with Messrs. Swift, J. C. Vowell, Mandeville and Gird be a committee to examine the old brewery, and to report to council the terms on which a lease can be made for a term of years, the tenant to place and keep the building in a state of repair, and to have the use of the wharf during the whole or a part of the lease, at such times as shall not interfere with the fish market.

Ordered, That Messrs. Smith, T. Vowell, Longden and Keith be a committee to examine the auditor's accounts for the first quarter ending the 4th day of June, and that he give notice to the committee when the accounts are ready for examination.

THE subscriber, who is the owner of a MANUFACTURING MILL, and a

Durable Geared Saw Mill,

On Broad Run, Prince William County, wishes to sell, and intends offering them for sale by public auction, to the highest bidder, on the first day of July next.—Persons desirous of owning this kind of property, are particularly invited to attend the sale, as the property will be most positively sold on that day, and as an opportunity of purchasing Mills so truly desirable, will not again occur.—To render the purchase still more desirable, there will be attached to these mills,

50 Acres of excellent Land,

One half of which will be in wood, or the whole, if required by the purchaser. In point of locality, no mills can be better situated, within half a mile of the road leading to the Thoroughfare Gap of the mountain, which is the route established by Act of Assembly as a Turnpike, to which there is the most ready access; and being surrounded by a country well timbered, and occupied by excellent Farmers, who cultivate extensively. Both these mills are in complete order for work, having lately undergone thorough repairs. In the Grist Mill, there are two pair of large Burrs and a pair of Stones for the Corn custom, which are turned by a force of water sufficient for the operation of an additional pair of Burrs, for which the house is abundantly commodious.

The terms of sale, one third of the purchase money in hand, and the balance to be divided into two equal payments of one and two years, without interest, and possession to be given on the first day of August, which will be immediately preceding the commencement of the manufacturing season.

The prospect for a crop of wheat the present season in this neighborhood, and for a considerable extent upwards is very flattering, and to a person who could apply his funds to such an object, it is confidently believed that no pursuit whatever would be attended with greater profit.—The sale will take place on the premises, well known in the neighborhood by the name of the Cloverland Mills, about half a mile from the subscriber's place of residence. EDWARD E. CARTER.

Tanyard Again.

THE sale of the tanyard, near the stone bridge, on the western extremity of Alexandria, advertised to take place on the 12th inst. was postponed. It will positively be offered at public auction on the premises, on TUESDAY the 15th of next month, at 9 o'clock in the forenoon, under the authority of a deed of trust from Elisha Talbot and Daniel McPherson to the subscriber, to secure the payment of a sum of money to Archibald McClean.

This valuable property, and elegant stand for the tanning business, will be sold, subject to the claim of Mordecai Miller for $6500, with what interest shall be due thereon, unless otherwise declared on the day of sale. The terms of sale & other arrangements will then be made known. JONAH ISABELL, Trustee.

Public Sale.

BY virtue of a deed of trust from Daniel McPherson and wife to the subscriber to secure to the Mechanics' Bank of Alexandria the payment of a debt due from John McPherson and Son, will be sold at public sale on the premises, on THURSDAY, the 10th day of June next, a certain tract of land, known by the name of ROUND-HILL, in the county of Fairfax, lying on both sides of the Colchester road, adjoining the lands of George Triplett, Dr. Richard Mason, and others, containing 164¼ acres, be the same more or less. This land is handsomely situated, and has lately received considerable improvements. Few farms of its size in the county, perhaps, present higher inducements to a tasteful proprietor.

The terms are one-fourth cash, and the remainder in three equal instalments at 12, 18 and 24 months, with interest from the day of sale. W. VEITCH, Trustee.

Public Sale.

ON the 9th DAY of JULY next, at 12 o'clock of that day, by virtue of a deed of trust, we will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, on the premises, that very valuable tract of land in Fairfax county, near Holmes's Run, and about four miles from Alexandria, generally known by the name of containing about 115 acres. This land is about one half in wood—the balance cleared, and in cultivation, with convenient buildings on it, and excellent water near them. A considerable proportion of the open land is fertile, and well calculated for timothy meadows.

The sum of $2,254 77 cts will be required to be paid in cash; for the residue a credit of twelve months will be given from the day of sale, the purchaser paying interest thereon, and giving satisfactory security for the punctual payment thereof. A conveyance will be made when the purchase money and interest is all paid up. If the terms of the sale should not be complied with by the purchaser, the premises will be immediately re-sold to the highest bidder, at the risque of the person to whom it shall have been struck off; and the same course will be repeated until an effectual sale shall have taken place.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia

September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirious of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and his prices falling

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis,

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment. may 25

100 Dollars Reward.

IS known to have been kidnapped from a field near Germantown, between the hours of 12 and 2 o'clock, on the 30th ult. whilst at work alone, a Free Black Man, named HENRY HUDSON, aged between 21 and 22 years, of the height of five feet five inches, very black complexion and dark eyes, has a scar under his left arm, between the wrist and elbow, occasioned by the cut of an axe.

He is by occupation a farmer, a native of Kent county, in the state of Delaware, had on a blue cloth roundabout jacket, old black silk vest, corded velvet pantaloons, and a wool hat.

He is a very civil, inoffensive man, with rather a down look. There is reason to suppose that he was decoyed into a carriage, and conveyed southward.

Any information respecting him will be thankfully received. Keepers of turnpike gates, toll bridges, and taverns, are particularly requested to give such information as may be in their power.

The above reward will be cheerfully paid on conviction of the perpetrators of this flagrant outrage upon the rights of a freeborn citizen of the United States.

ROMULUS RIGGS,

AT his office, next door below Crawford's tavern, Bridge-st. Georgetown, will exchange all kinds of Bank Notes on the most reasonable terms.—All persons who may have notes on the banks of North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, would do well to call on him, as he is largely in the purchase of that kind of money, and will take it on the most reasonable terms.—Persons travelling to the Western Country may at all times get the Bank Notes of the Western Banks at a fair discount, by calling at his Office. For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 18

T. W. MAURICE,

March 17 Capt. Eng. Supt.

The National Intelligencer and Maryland Gazette are requested to insert the above for two weeks and forward their accounts to this office.

To the Printers of the United States.

GENTLEMEN: In presenting a list of new prices of types, some explanatory remarks may be useful. The former prices were fixed during a period in which the raw materials were dear, and not easily to be procured, and it is presumed that they had some claim to be considered moderate, as in 1812 type were more than 3 per cent lower in Philadelphia than in London; and no advance was made on those prices during the late war, although existing circumstances would have justified the measure. It was considered that an advance would be an actual loss to the printers, as the competition in the printing business had, before that period arrived at such a point, that the public were supplied with printing at nearly the minimum; and also, that it was probable the price of types would continue sometime after the return of peace, and recompense for any advantage that was given up. This has taken place.

For some time past, types have been lowered in value but not in price. They have been sold on long and frequently uncertain credit, which produces to the seller all the effects of reduction of price, whilst to the printer who pays, it is comparatively of little benefit. All the advantages are in favor of those who promise, but do not perform, as, in truth, they get types for nothing, and the solvent printers pay for them. Another objection to this mode of reducing price is, that it absorbs the seller's funds, and, no matter how industrious or frugal he may be, subjects him to all the inconveniences of poverty.

Men who possess talents, economy, industry and honor, will sometimes lack money. The characters who have just claims to those attributes will rarely be at a loss for friends, and will enter on business with a more favorable prospect of success, when assisted by a moderate, than by an extended credit, which is equally within the reach of a rival, who, with an ardent disposition for speculation and adventure, may have but doubtful claims to reputation and prudence.

In order to leave no ground for complaint, it is to be understood that all purchasers, since the 1st of April, who comply with the new terms, will be entitled to benefit by the new prices.

Presuming on the long intimacy which has subsisted between you, gentlemen, and this establishment, I request you will give this an insertion in your papers.

Yours, respectfully,

JAMES RONALDSON.

Charlotte Hall School.

THE board of trustees for Charlotte Hall school deem it their duty to announce to the public, the present flourishing condition of this institution. Since the introduction of the present professors, the school has rapidly progressed in the public estimation.

When Philip Briscoe, esq. was called to assume the office of Principal, there were but 27 pupils. The liberality of the State Legislature of 1817, enabled the trustees to retain his services and those of Mr. Miltimore for the classical department—the Reverend Mr. Neale H. Shaw has also been retained as professor of mathematicks, and he is aided in that department by Mr. Sweetsee, a gentleman in high estimation as a professor. Under the management of these gentlemen the school has now 95 boys; and very many applications have already been made for entrance and board. Heretofore a portion of the boys have been compelled to board at the neighboring houses at too great a distance from the school; the trustees are now making arrangements which will enable fifty boys more to be accommodated immediately at the school; so that at all times the Principal will be enabled to exercise a general superintendance over their moral deportment (to the corruption of which, the boys in this retired village have but few temptations). The board will remark to those who are unacquainted with this place, that no part of Maryland is more distinguished for its general healthiness. The price of board is only 100 dollars a year. The tuition is now but 28 dollars a year! It will be raised after August to 32 dollars—a price much lower, however, than any of the public schools of our state.

It is intended then by the trustees to select four boys (of poor and indigent parents) of promise, and to board, clothe, and educate them entirely at the expense of the institution, and afterwards to labor to procure them that station to which their talents and conduct may entitle them.

Vaccine Institution.

THE small pox having appeared in Alexandria, such persons as have been vaccinated by the subscriber are invited to attend at his office, on St. Asaph-street, between Prince and Duke streets, to have their arms examined. Indigent persons are also invited to the same place for the purpose of being vaccinated. The subscriber will attend at his office every day in the week except Sunday, from 7 o'clock until 10 in the morning, for the purpose of receiving them.

He proposes also to be less particular than heretofore in the investigation of their claims to the benefit of the institution, as may respect their indigence and length of residence in town. The subscriber earnestly requests all such citizens as may be acquainted with persons liable to contagion, to send them without delay as above directed, where they will be served effectually and gratuitously.
